Quality Products Delivered on Time

JMS is a small precision machine shop with both milling and turning capabilities. We have been in business since March of 2006 and were ISO 9001:2008 certified from September 2, 2008 until September 2, 2012. Though we chose not to recertify do to the cost, we are still ISO compliant in all aspects of our operations. Being small allows us to deliver the highest quality parts each and every time, always on time.

Excellence in Machining

We pledge to apply our know-how and ability, in addition to our pride and dedication, to producing the finest and most consistent quality of manufactured items available in the marketplace today.

We want to earn your business and will do everything within our power to satisfy your needs.

From Prototype to Production

We specialize in the precision machining of small to medium size parts with full service inspection, cleaning and parts assembly.

Prototype and production run machining in tool steels, stainless steels, aluminum alloys, copper alloys, and plastics.

Mechanical assemblies, plastic fabrication, and laser etching.

We use state of the art Metrology Equipment to ensure we are always within specification.
